

How To Set Up A Successful Medical Weight Loss Program

By: Marketdata Enterprises, Inc.

Table of Contents

Part 1	Page
Course objectives	3
Do you have what it takes to compete in this business? What it takes to succeed	6
Reality check: your competition--medical, commercial, DIY, retail	6
What dooms a weight loss company to failure	9
Weight loss market outlook, trends, forecasts, what dieters want	15
The major medical corporate chains & franchises, retail drugstore chain mini-clinics: number of sites, profiles (CVS, Rite-Aid, Walmart, Redi-Clinic)	24
Hospital & clinic-based programs: descriptions	36
Physician-based weight loss programs – no. of MDs with programs estimate	39
Consumer attitudes toward MD weight loss programs	41
Bariatricians' weight loss programs (bariatrician training & profile of practice, Fees, methods they use, etc.)	44
VLCD programs (very low calorie diets) and vendors (HMR, Optifast, Robard): No. of patients nationwide, costs, methods used, company profiles	55
Medical clinic competitive advantages & disadvantages	67
Available medical weight loss models: franchises, licenses, turn-key models	69
Tables:
- Typical revenues & expenses, earnings per medical weight loss center	71
- Avg. cost to the patient, top medical weight loss companies	72
- Avg. income statement for a medical weight loss franchise	73
- Start-up costs for the top medical weight loss franchises	74
-

Company Profiles (how their program works, no. of sites, company details)

- Medi-WeightLoss Centers	75
- Smart For Life	77
- Nuviva Clinics	81
- Thinique	82
- Let's Lose Advanced Weight Loss	83
- JumpstartMD	84
- Dr. G's Weight Loss Clinics	85
- Lindora Clinics (corporate chain, not a franchise)	87
- Medical Weight Loss of Michigan (corporate chain)	92
- Licensee Model: Centers For Medical Weight Loss	96
- Vivaliti Wellness	99

Should you purchase a franchise? Is it worth it? 97

Obamacare: the major opportunity created, the Preventative Health Benefit explained, features & limitations, the business opportunity for MDs, PAs, NPs, RDs 99

Obamacare: list of states with mandatory insurance coverage for obesity screening & counseling 100

Obamacare: counseling services, who's qualified 100

Obamacare: CPT codes for weight loss counseling reimbursement 102

Part 2	Page
Part-time vs. full-time venture? – your choice	1
Facility space and logistics – new standalone center vs. existing space	2
Investment costs to buy a medical weight loss franchise or license, by company	3
Start-up costs for a stand-alone retail weight loss center (non-franchise)	4
Operating costs/income statement for a stand-alone retail center	5
Finding the right retail site	6
Franchise start-up costs	6
Recommended lease terms	6
Center design: exterior and interior layouts	9

The Weight Loss Consumer Bill of Rights	10
Procedures manual: contents (forms, procedures/duties for personnel)	10
Merchandise to display and sell	10
Equipment and supplies needed	11
Hours of operation	11
IT and Software recommendations	11
Bookkeeping – reports needed	12
Patient financing options: making it easy to pay you	13
Staffing – positions to fill, typical salaries
Weight Loss Counselors: your key asset, weaknesses of commercial coaches, recruiting your staff	14
Ideal backgrounds of counselors	19
What counselors should do/not do, limitations	19
How to use Registered Dieticians in your practice (typical diet plans, how to find them)	20
Collaborative Practice Agreements (see Appendix for sample)
Marketing: your advantages as a medical professional	24
Marketing: promotional methods to use	24
Marketing: budget: how much and how to spend it	25
Mining your existing patient database (via emails, waiting room fliers, videos)	26
Email: using it to stay in touch with weight loss patients	27
Your website: key features, how it can work for you, best practices for e-commerce	28
Customer loyalty	29
Waiting room brochures (also see samples in Appendix)	30
Local newspaper ads, costs, using social media, referrals from other healthcare pros	31
Marketing & Advertising Consultants experienced in the weight loss market	32
Appendix:
- Sample Collaborative Practice Agreement for Nurse Practitioners	33
- Table: State by state scope of practice rules for nurse practitioners	35
- Design samples of fliers describing your program, for your waiting room	39

Why diet companies fail or lose their way– case studies (LA Weight Loss, Weight Watchers)	1
Case studies of successful medical weight loss organizations (Lindora, HMR – Health Management Resources, NutriSystem, Johns Hopkins)	3
Diversification: in-person and virtual/phone services, different plans for different budgets	8
Creating meal plans: using a Registered Dietitian, DASH Diet, other options	9
Using multiple plans, the importance of customization
In-depth description of how the DASH program works, calorie levels, foods not allowed, Menus, tips, lifestyle changes, typical daily menu (tables)	9-21
Using prescription diet drugs: safe drugs to use, problems with previous diet drugs, discussions Of: Phentermine, Xenical, Qsymia, Belviq, Alli, Saxenda, others
- Form: Patient Informed consent for Appetite Suppressants and Participation in a Weight Management Program	34
Using dietary supplements: limitations, legal experts to consider, customer attitudes toward Them, why use is a dual-edged sword, pricing, restrictions on claims, attorney specialists	36
Using meal replacements (shakes & bars): why they are popular and safe, your private label brand, vendors who can make them for you, calorie counts and sugar levels, the use of soy, the convenience factor, ingredients, high protein/high fiber	39
- Vendor profiles: Bariatric Advantage, Bariatric Choice, Bariatrix Nutrition, Nature’s Sunshine
- Other companies using meal replacements (multi-level marketers, VLCD vendors, retail brands)
Complementary, optional services to offer (hormone tests, etc.)	50
Viewing your program as a complement to bariatric surgery patients (pre- and post-surgery), the growth of bariatric surgery, patient demographics, insurance coverage, demand, ACA coverage, ASMBS/other obesity societies	51
Establishing your brand: why it’s important, actions and techniques, goals	59
Reference Directory of diet industry sources	61-67
Appendix: Dietary Supplements certification, regulation, and future outlook	68

